AMERICAN INNS OF COURT

The American Inns of Court is the fastest growing legal organization in the country. Today, there are nearly 400 chartered American Inns of Court in 48 states, the District of Columbia, Guam, and Tokyo. More than 30,000 state, federal, and administrative law judges, attorneys, legal scholars, and students in their final year of law school are currently active members of an American Inn of Court.

American Inns of Court are patterned after the English Inns of Court that began in 1292 when King Edward I directed his Chief Justice to satisfy a growing need for skilled advocates at the Royal Court at Westminster. The English Inns of Court grew in number and importance during the Middle Ages. They emphasized the value of learning the craft of lawyering from those already established in the profession. Their collegial environment fostered common goals and nurtured professional ideals and ethics.

In 1977 Chief Justice Warren E. Burger and other American lawyers and judges spent two weeks in England as part the Anglo-American Exchange. They were particularly impressed with the collegial approach of the English Inns of Court and with the way in which the Inns passed on to new lawyers the decorum, civility, and professional standards necessary for a properly functioning bar. Following his return, Chief Justice Burger authorized a pilot program that could be adapted to the realities of law practice in the United States.

Chief Justice Burger, former Solicitor General Rex Lee, and Senior United States District Judge A. Sherman Christensen founded the first American Inn of Court in 1980. The Inn was affiliated with the J. Reuben Clark School of Law at Brigham Young University in Provo, Utah. The number of Inns increased slowly at first, but the growth of the movement began to accelerate in 1985 with the creation of the American Inns of Court Foundation.

The Hamilton Burnett AIC, Tennessee's first American Inn of Court, was founded in 1988 in Knoxville. The Harry Phillips AIC, Tennessee's second Inn, was formed in 1990. Since then, eight other Inns have been formed in Tennessee — The Leo Bearman, Sr. AIC in Memphis in 1995; The Tennessee John Marshall AIC in Franklin in 1997; The Andrew Jackson AIC in Murfreesboro in 1998; The Justices Ray L. Brock, Jr.-Robert E. Cooper AIC in Chattanooga in 2001; The Howell Edmunds Jackson AIC in Jackson in 2010; The Belmont University College of Law AIC in 2011; The Memphis ADR AIC; and Tennessee's newest Inn, The Nashville Entertainment and IP Law AIC in Nashville in 2021.

MISSION OF THE AMERICAN INNS OF COURT

The Mission of the American Inns of Court is to foster excellence in professionalism, ethics, civility, and legal skills for judges, lawyers, academicians, and students of the law in order to perfect the quality, availability and efficiency of justice in the United States.

PROFESSIONAL CREED

Whereas, the Rule of Law is essential to preserving and protecting the rights and liberties of a free people; and

Whereas, throughout history, lawyers and judges have preserved, protected and defended the Rule of Law in order to ensure justice for all; and

Whereas, preservation and promulgation of the highest standards of excellence in professionalism, ethics, civility, and legal skills are essential to achieving justice under the Rule of Law;

Now therefore, as a member of an American Inn of Court, I hereby adopt this professional creed with a pledge to honor its principles and practices:

I will treat the practice of law as a learned profession and will uphold the standards of the profession with dignity, civility and courtesy.

I will value my integrity above all. My word is my bond.

I will develop my practice with dignity and will be mindful in my communications with the public that what is constitutionally permissible may not be professionally appropriate.

I will serve as an officer of the court, encouraging respect for the law in all that I do and avoiding abuse or misuse of the law, its procedures, its participants and its processes.

I will respect the interests of my client with vigor and will seek the most expeditious and least costly solutions to problems, resolving disputes through negotiation whenever possible.

I will work continuously to attain the highest level of knowledge and skill in the areas of the law in which I practice.

I will contribute time and resources to public service, charitable activities and pro bono work.

I will work to make the legal system more accessible, responsive and effective.

I will honor the requirements, the spirit and the intent of the applicable rules or codes of professional conduct for my jurisdiction, and will encourage others to do the same.

THE HONORABLE HARRY PHILLIPS

HARRY PHILLIPS AMERICAN INN OF COURT

The Harry Phillips AIC was founded in 1990 in Nashville. It was the 120th American Inn of Court in the United States. The charter application included the names of John P. Branham, Chancellor C. Allen High, Judge William C. Koch, Jr., Dean Joe C. Loser, Jr., Charles H. Warfield, and Judge Thomas A. Wiseman, Jr. From 1990 to 2023, over 400 lawyers, judges, law professors, and law students living and working in Middle Tennessee have been members of the Harry Phillips AIC.

American Inns of Court are permitted to have a specialized focus, and the original focus of the Harry Phillips AIC was on civil litigation. In recent years, the executive committee has expanded the Inn's focus to include litigation trial techniques, professionalism and ethics issues, and other substantive legal topics.

As one of its first official acts, the Inn adopted the name Harry Phillips American Inn of Court in honor of the late Judge Harry Phillips, Chief Judge Emeritus of the United States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit. Judge Phillips was born in 1909 in Watertown, Tennessee. After obtaining his Bachelor's and law degrees at Cumberland University, he was admitted to the practice of law in 1933. He served in the Tennessee House of Representatives for four years and as an assistant state attorney general from 1937-1950. He practiced law in Nashville with Louis Farrell, Jr., B.B. Gullett, and former Tennessee Supreme Court Justice Weldon White until President John F. Kennedy, at Senator Albert Gore's urging, nominated him to the United States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit.

Judge Phillips joined the United States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit in July 1963. He served as chief judge from 1969 until 1979 when he took senior status. During his judicial career, Judge Phillips wrote over 500 majority opinions and numerous law review articles. He also wrote several books including a history of the Phillips family, "The History of the Sixth Circuit," and the third and fourth editions of Pritchard on Wills and Estates.

Judge Phillips had many other professional accomplishments, but above all these, he was known as a person of humanity and humility. Judge George Edwards, Judge Phillips' successor as chief judge, summed up these qualities best in 1981 at the formal presentation of Judge Phillips' portrait when he said:

> His industry and perseverance are well known among his friends and associates. No one works harder to achieve what he believes in. His legal > scholarship is acknowledged far and near. His loyalty to the institutions in which he believes is legendary. This is not a blind loyalty, but one born of a deep understanding of the fundamental precepts of these institutions - his church, his family, this Nation and this Court. His humanity translates an abiding belief that we all are God's children into a deep concern for the welfare of every person who touches his life. His courage enables him to take unpopular positions without hesitation when he furthers the cause of equal justice by doing so. All of these traits are undergirded by absolute integrity and a sense of fair play which is reflected in his life as well as his judicial decisions.

Judge Phillips died in England in 1985 from injuries received when he was struck while crossing a busy London street. In 1986, the United States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit named its Nashville satellite library after Judge Phillips in recognition of his lifelong commitment to legal scholarship. Four years later, Nashville's first American Inn of Court named itself after Judge Phillips, recognizing that he epitomized the qualities of competence, collegiality, and commitment to justice that are at the heart of the Inn's mission.

MEMBERSHIP

The Harry Phillips AIC currently has 92 active members divided into four classifications. Masters of the Bench ("Benchers") are lawyers and law professors with fifteen or more years of experience and federal, state, and local judges. Barristers are lawyers and law professors with from five to fifteen years of experience. Associates are lawyers with less than five years of experience. Finally, Students are law students who are in their final year of law school.

The Inn's members are drawn from Davidson County and the surrounding counties. Membership is open to all qualified persons, regardless of race, color, sex, age, religion, national origin, or disability. Thus, the Harry Phillips AIC reflects the rich diversity of the bench and bar in Middle Tennessee and includes representatives of the plaintiffs' bar, defense counsel, solo practitioners, government lawyers, corporate counsel, law professors, persons working in large and small firms, and federal, state, and local trial and appellate judges. Efforts are made to ensure that no law firm or type of practice is disproportionately represented.

Benchers and Barristers serve four-year terms; while Associates serve two-year terms. Students are members of the Inn during their final year of law school. Members are eligible for re-election to the Inn after at least a one-year hiatus. Members are not permitted to change their membership classification during their term but may be placed in a different classification if they are re-elected to the Inn.

In addition to the active members, the Inn extends emeritus memberships to Benchers who have completed their full term of membership in good standing. Emeritus members may participate in the Inn's educational and social programs at their own expense. Many emeritus members regularly attend Inn meetings.

GUEST POLICY

The Inn's programs are primarily for the members' benefit. However, members may invite guests. Members who wish to invite guests must inform the president in advance of the meeting of their guests' names. They must also agree to be responsible for the cost of the guests' meals and for the continuing legal education fees if their guests desire credit for attending the program. Members may pay for their guests prior to the meeting or may request to be billed. The cost of the meal and program is $55.

SELECTION OF MEMBERS

In the spring of each year, a membership committee solicits nominations for new Benchers, Barristers, and Associates from the Inn's active members and from state and federal judges. The membership committee then identifies persons who have a demonstrated interest in developing their own professional skills and in improving the quality of justice in Middle Tennessee and submits its recommendations to the Inn's executive committee. The executive committee extends the invitations to join the Inn.

The Inn also invites the Nashville School of Law and Vanderbilt University School of Law to recommend students who are about to begin their final year of studies for membership in the Inn. Each law school recommends students who, by their academic performance and participation in extracurricular activities, have demonstrated an active interest in the practice of law.

All lawyers, law professors, and judges living and working in Davidson County or in any county contiguous to Davidson County are eligible for membership in the Harry Phillips AIC either as Benchers, Barristers, or Associates. In addition, students enrolled at law schools in Middle Tennessee who are entering their final year of studies are eligible for Student membership. Former members of the Inn may be nominated for membership as long as they have not been active members of the Inn for at least one year. The Inn favors making the Inn experience available to as many lawyers practicing in Middle Tennessee as possible.

Membership nominations may be submitted online through the Harry Phillips AIC website at the following link: https://harryphillipsaic.com/forms/

ATTENDANCE POLICY

All active members are expected to attend and to participate actively in the Inn's meetings. Two unexcused absences during a program year will be deemed to be a resignation unless the executive committee waives the provision for good cause. Persons who are unable to attend a particular meeting must inform the president prior to the meeting of the reasons for their absence. Absences without advance notice are not excused.

ANNUAL DUES

The annual dues for Benchers are $600, dues for Barristers are $525, and dues for Associate members are $450. The Student members pay no dues. The funds provided by the dues defray the Inn's operating expenses, including the cost of the members' meals at the monthly Inn meetings, the dues to the American Inns of Court Foundation, and the CLE fees charged by the Tennessee Commission on Continuing Legal Education and Specialization. Partial or full scholarships based on financial need may be available upon request.

The American Inns of Court Foundation has received a 501(c)(3) designation from the Internal Revenue Service, and the Harry Phillips AIC benefits from this designation as an affiliate of the Foundation. Members may deduct their dues either as a business expense or as a charitable contribution. Members electing to deduct their Inn dues as a charitable contribution must reduce the amount of their contribution by $401.76, the value of the meals.

MEETINGS

The program year begins in August with an introductory dinner. Thereafter, the Inn holds eight meetings on the third Tuesday of every month. All meetings are held at the Nashville City Club in Nashville. Each meeting begins with a cocktail reception with a cash bar from 5:30 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. Dinner follows the reception, and then one of the Inn's eight teams presents a ninety-minute program dealing with a practical aspect of the practice of law. Meetings end at 8:00 p.m.

CONTINUING LEGAL EDUCATION CREDIT

The Inn has been certified as a CLE provider by the Tennessee Commission on Continuing Legal Education and Specialization. Members may earn as many as 13.5 hours of CLE credit by attending seven and participating in one of the Inn's programs. The number of credits available for participating in the presentation of a program depends upon the written materials' compliance with Tenn. Sup. Ct. R. 21, § 4.03.

Members and guests desiring to obtain CLE credit must sign an attendance form at the conclusion of each program. The members' CLE fees are included in their dues.

TEAMS

The Inn's active members are divided into eight teams. The program committee selects the teams and makes sure that each team includes Benchers, Barristers, Associates, and one Student who would not otherwise encounter each other frequently in their daily work. Team assignments may be changed for good cause. Members desiring to change teams must do so as early as possible. They must also find a member of another team that has not yet presented a program who is willing to take their place and must inform the president of their reason for changing teams and the name of their replacement.

The teams are encouraged to meet monthly, or more often, if necessary, to prepare their program and to promote comradery among the team members. The teams choose their own meeting places and times but are expected to notify their team liaison when their meetings are scheduled.

Each team is led by two co-captains. The co-captains are responsible for convening the team, for assuring that the team members attend the Inn's meetings and activities, and for promoting contacts among team members between Inn meetings. The co-captains also supervise the preparation of the team's program and are responsible for all other team activities. One member of the team is designated as the team's reporter. The responsibilities of the reporter include (1) assuring that the team's handout materials are prepared and submitted for posting on the Inn's website prior to the meeting and (2) preparing the Program Submission Form and assembling the related materials for submission to the American Inns of Court.

Each team is also assigned a liaison. The liaison attends the team's meetings and is available to assist the team in organizing and presenting its program.

Each team must prepare and present one of the Inn's eight programs. In addition to presenting a program, the teams provide Inn members an opportunity to become better acquainted with other lawyers practicing in Middle Tennessee. The teams are the principle component of the Inn's mentoring activities. Their diverse membership is intended to build an inter-generational relationship that encourages frank and personal discussion of matters of practice, ethics, civility, and all other aspects of the practice of law. The most experienced members of the team are encouraged to pass on the best of the practice to the less experienced members. Accordingly, Benchers are encouraged to provide their Associate and Student colleagues with opportunities to observe them in court, in deposition, or in the office.

PROGRAMS

The eight programs offered during the year are at the heart of the Inn's monthly meetings. They focus on practical legal skills with an emphasis on ethics, civility, and professionalism in lawyering. They generally involve a demonstration or presentation of principles, skills, techniques, and relationships involved in trial and appellate court proceedings or alternative dispute resolution proceedings and in activities preliminary to courtroom appearances. These programs also incorporate opportunities for critique and discussion.

Each team presenting a program must:

- Select a program format that will present the assigned topic in an interesting and informative manner.

- Prepare written materials that satisfy the requirements of Tenn. Sup. Ct. R. 21, §§ 4.03 & 5.01(e). These materials are either posted on the Inn's website or are handed out at the meeting.

- Prepare an American Inns of Court Program Submission Form to be included in the Foundation's national Programming Manual.
  A copy of the form for this report can be found at https://www.innsofcourt.org/AIC/For_Members/Program_Library/AIC/AIC_For_Members/AIC_Program_Lib/Program_Library.aspx?hkey=75e58f25-ceb5-4a3b-979b-ac882ac43d35. This task is the responsibility of the team's reporter.

The Inn will also underwrite the meal costs for persons who are not Inn members but who have been invited by a team to be part of a program.

BEST PROGRAM AWARDS

The American Inns of Court promote innovative and creative program development by presenting annual awards for the ten most outstanding programs offered by local Inns, as well as special recognition for the best researched program, the most creative program, and the best special project. All programs submitted to the national office of the American Inns of Court are automatically considered for its recognition.

Our Inn has received national recognition for three programs. Our November 1995 program entitled "I've Got a Secret - Confidentiality and Secrecy" received a fifth place award in 1996; our April 1999 program called "Lies, Damned Lies, and Statistics" received a ninth place award in 2000; and our February 2015 program "Magna Carta: The Palladium of English and American Liberties" received second place in the Magna Carta program contest.

In addition to pursuing national recognition for outstanding programming, our Inn will sponsor its own best program competition. Following our last meeting in May 2027, all members will be given an opportunity to vote for the best program materials and the best program of the year. The members of the team presenting the best program of the year will not only be recognized for their efforts, but they and their spouses or significant others will also receive a congratulatory dinner.

INN GOVERNANCE

Governance of the Harry Phillips AIC is entrusted to the officers and the executive committee. The officers include: president, counselor, secretary/treasurer, reporter, program chairs, membership chair, and arrangements chair. The executive committee consists of the nine officers and four at-large members. The president and counselor must be Benchers, and at least one of them must be a judge. The other officers and at-large executive committee members may be drawn from any membership category.

The membership committee also nominates the Inn's officers and at-large executive committee members. Elections are held in conjunction with the last meeting of the program year. The president and counselor are elected by a majority of the Benchers, and the other officers are elected by a majority of the entire membership. Officers serve for a one-year term and are eligible to serve successive terms. A list of the officers for 2024-2025 is included in this handbook, and members are encouraged to contact any of the officers if they have questions or comments concerning the Inn.

THE AMERICAN INNS OF COURT FOUNDATION

The American Inns of Court Foundation is a non-profit, tax exempt organization. It was created in May 1985 by and for the individual American Inns of Court. By becoming an active member of a local American Inn of Court, individuals automatically become members of the American Inns of Court Foundation. The objectives of the Foundation include: to charter Inns nationwide; to serve and foster communication among Inns; and to encourage membership in American Inns of Court. Our Inn pays annual dues to the Foundation.

The Foundation carries a national general liability policy and umbrella policy for bodily injury and property damage that covers all chartered Inns throughout the country. In addition, each Inn may be blanketed under the Foundation's IRS 501(c)(3) tax exempt status, thereby eliminating the need to file an annual tax return as long as its average annual gross receipts do not exceed $25,000.

The Foundation also provides benefits to individual Inn members. These benefits include: (1) a subscription to The Bencher, a bimonthly newsletter providing information on American Inns of Court events at a regional and national level, as well as local events involving other Inns, and columns and articles dealing with timely issues of legal ethics; (2) a listing in the National Membership Directory published each year with the assistance of the WestGroup; and (3) a reciprocal visitation agreement with the four English Inns of Court which enables individual Inn members to visit and dine in the English Inns. American Inns of Court members are required to obtain a letter of introduction from the Foundation before visiting one of the English Inns.

Periodically, the Foundation hosts a national conference that is traditionally held in May and is rotated among cities throughout the country. In addition to the annual conference, the Foundation holds annual regional workshops that focus on the real nuts and bolts of running an effective Inn. In October of each year, the Foundation hosts an annual leadership dinner at the United States Supreme Court for the purpose of honoring local, regional, and national leaders and to present the A. Sherman Christensen Award, the Lewis F. Powell Award for Professionalism and Ethics, and the Sandra Day O'Connor Award for Professional Service.
